

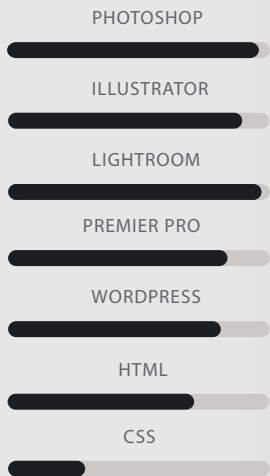

GRAPHIC & WEB DESIGN

My life story started when I came to Turkey for university education. I have worked in different fields since I was 17 years old. I learned to look at life from different perspectives, to be patient and humble. In addition to these, I traveled as much as I could and discovered new places and new people. I learned to draw, play the violin and guitar and add new colors to my life. Eventually I started my own business (web & graphic design), which I am currently developing. We are as human as we can support life. I think the answer to the question of why we exist begins with everyone finding what they do best. If I can be a small inspiration for this organismic parasitic system that we call humanity, to be removed from prison-like schools under the name of education and establish a system about the existence of man in a higher form that he should be, I will feel as if I have already fulfilled the purpose of my entire existence. If there are still people who are hungry and homeless on the streets, we have not completed a single thing as humanity. You can visit my website for detailed information.
